BROADEN WORK WITH FARMERS

Women's Activities to Get More Attention From Specialists

W. W. Owens, county agent leader of extension work in Utah, arrived in Ogden this morning to confer with W. Preston Thomas, county agent, relative to the organization of county agent work in Weber county along slightly different lines than has been followed heretofore. The extension work is to be broadened and brought before the women and the boys and girls in the county as well as before the men, he said. Heretofore the greater part of the work of a county agent has been devoted to the men's work on the farm. Mr. Owens said, and though women specialists and specialists in boys' and girls' work had been sent out from the Utah Agricultural college, not as much attention had been paid by the county agents throughout the state to this feature of the work as will be devoted to it hereafter. In the future the county agent will be supplied with specialists as heretofore, but will devote more of his time to the organization of the women's work in co-operation with the women specialists and also to the organization work of the boys' and girls' clubs in co-operation with the specialists in that line.

ESCAPES CHARGE OF TREASON IN TACOMA

TACOMA, Wash., April 21.—Hans Frederick Kurth lost his American citizenship in the federal court yesterday and thereby was saved from possible arrest and charge of treason to the United States. Kurth was in court to answer a charge that he had violated his oath of citizenship which he took here in 1914. The government showed he returned to Germany, fought with the German army until the armistice and returned to New York in 1918. He was denied admittance to the United States, then went to Mexico and recently returned to Tacoma, according to the evidence. Judge E. E. Cushman stopped the case before all evidence was in with the remark: "I declare the defendant's citizenship revoked that the court may be spared hearing him tried on a charge of treason." Federal officials said they would attempt to have Kurth deported.

Here are Some Pictures of Mr. Brown—

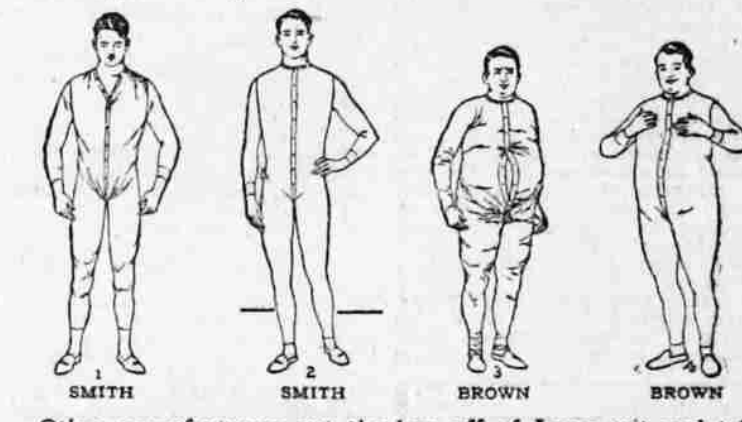

WHEN he was 20 years old, he was thin and slender with a 36-inch chest. When he was 30 years old, he was squared out and had a 40-inch chest. When he was 50 years old, he had become quite stout; his chest was 44 inches. Neither his arms, his legs, nor his body were longer at 50 years than at 20 years old. At 20 he wore a slim union suit, at 30 a regular, and at 50 years a stout.

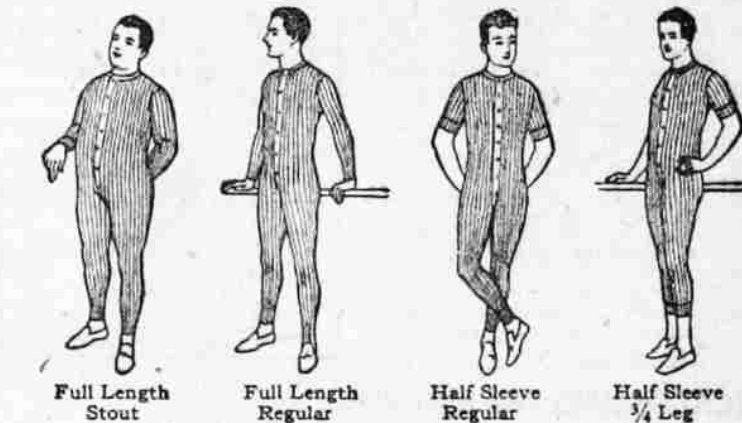

Here is a Joke on Mr. Brown

Mr. Brown was a short fat man. Mr. Smith was a tall slim man, and Mr. Jones was just between them. They all measured 40-inch chest. But Brown had a 60-inch trunk and Smith had a 68-inch trunk.

One day, because they all wore 40-inch chest suits, the suits got mixed. Figure 3 shows Mr. Brown in Mr. Smith's suit. It is all right in the chest but too long. Figure 1 shows Mr. Smith in Mr. Brown's suit which is too short. When they traded back Figure 2 shows Mr. Smith and Figure 4 shows Mr. Brown, each in his own suit. This shows that a stout man cannot wear a slim man's suit even if the chest measure is the same in each. Caspar make genuine stouts (large around) and genuine slims (small around). Right in trunk and right in chest, and no other underwear manufacturers do so.

Other manufacturers cut the legs off of Jones suit and tell Brown it fits him, but the trunk is too long for Brown and fits him about as Smith's suit fits Brown in Figure 3 only the legs would be cut off shorter as shown in Figure 2, so as to fit Mr. Brown's legs. The body and arms would still be too long. Caspar insist that a man's trunk or body measure is more important than the chest measure as shown in Figures 1 and 3. Always insist on your trunk being measured.

Caspar make nine sizes and each size in slims, regulars and stouts—27 sizes, and then these are made in a variation of long sleeves, short sleeves, long leg and 3/4 leg. 56 sizes in one style of garment. Caspar don't believe in making the man fit the suit, but in making the suit fit the man. Caspar quality since 1876 is known from ocean to ocean. What you want is quality, fit and wear. That's what we give you when we sell you Caspar.

TWELVE HURT IN OIL BLASTS

DOWNEY, Calif., April 21.—Twelve people were seriously hurt and scores were slightly injured here when two explosions followed in rapid sequence, shattering buildings and windows, throwing debris in many directions and severely damaging adjacent structures. The first explosion was that of the underground tanks of an oil station at Fourth and Crawford streets. The second explosion was that of an oil truck which happened to be near the station at the instant of the first blast. Because of the smallness of Downey, a town 15 miles southeast of here, the police and fire departments were unable to cope with the situation. Calls for aid were sent to the sheriff's office and automobiles loaded with deputies were hurried out, followed by ambulances. Dr. C. E. Stanley, in charge of the local hospital, said fifteen persons had been treated at his institution, of whom 12 were seriously hurt, but that none of them would die. He said that there appeared to be a great many cases of persons having been thrown to the ground by the shock

LANDMARK GIVES WAY FOR DWELLINGS

One of the oldest landmarks in the city is being torn down on the property of the Wardleigh corporation to make room for three modern residences. It is the old barn located on Twenty-second street east of Quincy avenue and was built in 1878. The company has two acres of ground at that site and will put up three more residences making seven in all. Two of the new residences will face on Twenty-second street and one on Quincy avenue.
